In response to it, Officers of Licensee appeared and submitted reply dated 8/6/15 and therein agreed to comply the grievance of consumer provided consumer submits the power of attorney / deed of assignment / indemnity bond cum undertaking of old consumer M/s. Rahul Enterprises and of consumer himself . LR submitted in their reply that the total amount of additional SD of Rs. 29,200/- collected from the consumer on the four different occasions will be added in the SD account of the consumer at their new account no. 001849033470 by suitable B-80 adjustment and also the credit of interest on SD of amount Rs.15,642.12 Ps. and credit of RLC of amount Rs.31,324.98 Ps. will be given to them by suitable B-80 adjustment. They assured that this adjustment /credit will be reflected in consumer's bill subject to the submission from consumer as mentioned above.

On the hearing date, i.e. on 9/6/15, CR contended that they have submitted the documents asked by Licensee such as sale and transfer date etc. to the Officers of Licensee and LRs also agreed regarding the acknowledgment of the required documents from the consumer. The LR further clarified that as per their submission vide letter dated 8/6/15, they will now make necessary credit of additional SD in the SD account of consumer and also the required interest along with RLC will also be given credit in the consumer's next bill.

On the next hearing date, i.e. on 29/6/15, the CR Shri Sheth submitted his report stating that his entire grievance is fully complied. In his letter dated 29/6/15, he clarified that consumer has received the credit of SD interest along with RLC in the bill of June-15. He further clarified that the Additional SD amount is also added in the current SD column of June-15 bill issued to the consumer.

Accordingly it is clear that the claim of the consumer is settled and , it needs no any further direction. Hence Matter is to be disposed off.

Hence the order.
