

Order below schedule "A" consumer application in Case No.41/2015 of M/s. Kazi Industries Vs. MSEDCL.

During the course of hearing on 28.12.2015 it is brought to our notice that the consumer has availed the remedy before the district consumer redressal forum, district Pune by filing consumer complaint under the provisions of the Consumer Protection Act 1986. The remedy provided under the consumer protection Act is in addition to other remedies provided under other acts unless there is a clear bar. Moreover as per Regulation No.6.7 of MERC (CGRF and E.O.) Regulations, 2006, there is bar to this forum when consumer has filed representation in respect of the same grievance which is pending before any Court, Tribunal or arbitrator or any other authority, or a decree or award or a final order has already been passed by any such court, Tribunal or arbitrator or authority. It is seen that the district consumer forum has granted stay on the recovery of arrears of the Licensee. In view of this circumstance there is no propriety to proceed with the matter. Hence the said grievance stands dismissed with costs.
